

Connecticut Interscholastic Athletic Conference Extends Partnership with Musco Lighting to Enhance the Player and Fan Experience

October 16, 2026

(Cheshire, Connecticut): The Connecticut Interscholastic Athletic Conference (CIAC) is proud to extend its partnership with Musco Lighting as the organizations work together to enhance the student-athlete and fan experience across CIAC member schools.

As the Official and Exclusive Sports Lighting Provider of the CIAC, Musco will continue to provide educational programming, expertise, and resources to help member schools make informed decisions about their athletic lighting needs.

Through the extended partnership, Musco will help raise awareness of lighting practices designed to improve on-field safety and playability, enhance the gameday atmosphere, expand opportunities for field usage, and maximize the long-term value of athletic lighting systems.

"The CIAC is excited to renew its partnership with Musco Lighting, a world leader in the design and manufacturing of sports lighting solutions," said CIAC Executive Director Dr. Glenn Lungarini. "We're looking forward to our continued partnership in Connecticut, as Musco helps support solutions for a multitude of sports destinations, from your hometown fields to Olympic venues to professional stadiums, where their lights enhance the game experience for both the athletes and fans."

Musco has specialized in sports lighting and technology for more than 50 years, with industry-leading innovations in glare reduction and light control. In addition to maintaining numerous state-level partnerships, Musco is a long-time supporter of national organizations including the National Interscholastic Athletic Administrators Association (NIAAA) and National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA).

"State associations play an important role in supporting the schools and students they serve, and we're proud to partner with organizations like the CIAC that share our commitment to the student-athlete experience," said Doug Miller, Executive Director of USA Field Sales at Musco. "By combining our nationwide experience with local relationships and resources, we can help member schools maximize the value of their facilities and create better experiences for everyone who uses them."
